Train harder
and stay healthy!

You know it! Going all out in training feels really good. You have to go beyond your limits to get better. That is true, however, for the body, regeneration is just as important to develop further. Many athletes forget about this important part of practice!

The importance of regeneration for the body is shown by the latest findings: 141 international studies have shown that both after short physical exertion at high intensity as well as high levels of exercise at long endurance training, the intestine is leaking (leaky gut). In the process, performance-reducing toxins and pathogens enter your systemic circulation. There they can cause a wide variety of complaints.

You have probably been affected before? Have you ever thought of a leaky gut?

According to sports medicine research, the following symptom complexes may be due to a recurring physical overload:

- Performance-reducing gastrointestinal complaints (flatulence, cramps, diarrhea, ...)
- Longer regeneration times
- Lack of training progress
- Frequent infections
- Increased lactate levels and pulse / heart rates

Since the mentioned symptoms can have many causes, always consult a trusted doctor and pharmacist for all health issues or complaints!

The solution comes from nature!

PANACEO SPORT can repair your leaky intestinal wall (leaky gut) and make sure that it stays tight. In addition, PANACEO SPORT already filters in the gastrointestinal tract performance-reducing toxins such as lead, arsenic, cadmium, nickel and ammonium. In the future, they will not be able to attack the intestinal wall and cause damage. This effect is proven in a „gold standard study“ and ensures increased exercise capacity.

Since the intestine is also the center of the immune system, taking PANACEO SPORT additionally affects your health. As the saying goes: only a healthy body is efficient!
